candidates should retire from the contest. "I am at the polls myself and two other gentlemen," he said, "and at the same time the assembled should elect two other gentlemen to make up the quota and thus save a contest of greater price of frontier, barbed-wire, lumber, sheep, prairie-rippers, and so on. It is the least out of one to this end of it, but "where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise." Had he suggested such a course to Hotchkiss, it might have been a very different matter. But the gentlemen nominated had been required, out of the eleven gentlemen nominated, to follow five I understand are the most popular, and in all probability the best, of the State. They are—

John B. Hoyle, Ben, Irvin, Flockton, and Nowell.

Well, the ratplayers might do worse than elect the Board directed than the gentlemen mentioned; that is, all give good money for nothing. But the ratplayers are not strict economists. If the electors were supported Mr. Farrar at the last election give the votes to Mr. Hart at the forthcoming election, and again in the same manner in the future, the election will then return a Board as prognosticated, which I will be a fair representative Board, and whatever business they may have to transact in connection with the schools, the ratepayers may rest assured that it will be done most efficiently, impartially, and for the benefit and interests of the whole ratepayers.

I am,
Yours respectfully,
A DELVER

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,
Your correspondent "Oppositionist" appears to be dissatisfied with the way (to use his own words) in which the so-called results were presented to the meeting at Woodlee Ford and states that meeting separately, a very different tale would have been told." I am sorry that neither your correspondence nor any of the correspondence of the Board has included any way, but as I am entirely responsible for the statement which I read at the meeting, and for the way in which it was drawn up, perhaps I will allow me to explain, that it was a general statement and not a detailed one, being in fact simply copy of the annual Balance Sheet of the Board, which details of any description do not appear. If any question be asked, at either of the meetings which have been held, I should have been very glad to have given the explanation respecting the separate schedule upon any other point which might have corresponded had the opportunity at the Oull meeting last Friday of putting questions either to members of the Board or to myself. I think that ought to have made use of it, and so obtained the election drew near I have been anxious throughout that the public should have every opportunity of expressing an opinion and have been considering personal trouble in order to state that end, in the matter of the meetings which have been held, and other ways; and I regret very much to find that a one should be dissatisfied in any way.

I am, Dear Sir,
Yours faithfully,
ROBERT J. SMIT

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.
Dear Sir,
Kindly allow me to correct a mis-statement made in a letter published in the last issue of Rothwell Times. The writer—who shelters himself by the anonymous title of "Oppositionist"— states that the "humblest" of the "Oppositionist" them one of the school into the "Church choir." There is absolutely no truth whatever in this assertion. The recruits for the ranks of our chorists are invariably drawn from the Church San School. I have the best of reasons for knowing that for it is my business to find boys' voices, and I cannot hamper in the task by Mr. Irvin's rigid restrictions. I am a member of the Church choir. I do not for a moment suppose that the correspondent made this remarkable statement knowing it to be untrue. Perhaps it was an error at a venture, or he may have been misled by any of the many little tales which are usually fabricated and set afloat for the consumption of voters at election times. With the other parts of the letter I will neither whine nor do, but—in justice to Mr. Irvin—could not make the reference to choir matters without some further explanation.

Yours obediently,
WALTER LOCKWOOD,
Organist, Woodliefes Church.
P. S.—Bye-the-by, why did not "Opposition!"
make his charge at the meeting, and have it published?

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

I cannot allow your correspondent ("Opposition!") remarks to pass unnoticed. The part of his letter I allude to is, where he accuses our Vicar, drafting the boys out of the school, into the Choir. Allow me to say Sir, this is not the case, the boys are willing, and think it a great honour to go into the choir. Hoping you will insert this

ROUS LES SYMPTOMS.

If vital forces are depressed, if you have a general lassitude and weakness, are easily tired, have night sweats, are short of breath, or slight fever, and experience feelings of anxiety and depression,—you are suffering from ACID DEBILITY, and Hot Bitters will re-vitalize.

If you have a sense of weight or fullness in the stomach, a changeable appetite, sometimes voracious, sometimes generally reduced, a morbid craving for sweets, or a full meal, with severe pain for some time after eating, wind, sourness, vomiting, or flatulence at the pit of the stomach, or over it, headache, or some of these symptoms, you are suffering from DYSPEPSIA, which Hot Bitters will normalize.

DANGEROUS SYMPTOMS.

If your vital forces are depressed, if you have a general prostrated lassitude and weakness, are easily fatigued, have night sweats, are sick of breath on every slight exertion, are unable to find rest and cheerfulness and depression, you are suffering from GENERAL DEBILITY, and Hop Bitters will restore you to health.

If you have a sense of weight or fulness in the stomach, a changeable appetite, constant vomiting, morbid craving, low spirits after a full meal, with heavy pain in the stomach after eating, and a general sense of languor and fluttering at the pit of the stomach, and a nervousness over it, have you not the symptoms of DYSPEPSIA, and you are suffering from DYSPEPSIA, which Hop Bitters will permanently cure.

If you have a weak, nervous system, with frequent pains, a nervous appetite, an unquenchable thirst, and a general debility, you are suffering from NEURALGIA, and Hop Bitters will permanently cure you.

Cast-iron. The subject was "China, its history and antiquities, and all the manners and customs of the inhabitants." A collection was made at the close of the lecture in aid of the Band of Hope.

DEATH.—Thomas Wilson, an aged invalid who had been for a long time par. resided in a little cottage near his own home, died on Sunday afternoon last. He himself died on Sunday afternoon, but other days were dawdling upon him, as, by the death of a relative, an act of violence or stillings per week had been ruled in his favor.

TOWN TALK.

I think we were promised by one of my old friends (I refer to Mr. John Turner) that Mr. Charles Bradlaugh, M.P., should have addressed a meeting in London when he came to Leeds. How is it? Mr. Bradlaugh has been to Leeds lately, but the proposition has not been recommended.

We all welcome our old friend back again, and I am sure all will be glad to see Mr. Jos. Dobson looking so well and healthy. The Dobson family is a large one, and I think it must be larger than I had

THAT case of suicide in Shaw Fold last Saturday night, is the most pathetic thing that has come under our eyes for a long time. The man, moreover, is not creditable to the village. He was a fellow who lay down on a bed of sickness should be allowed to die through sheer despair at the prospect of starvation for himself, and wife, and little ones, is a terrible impairment of the system of relief for the sick poor at Rothwell. A few sympathetic workers, backed by timely help in the shape of food, last Friday, would have saved this man from an awful death. Poor Jack! he was only a sweep, but he kissed his wife's hand and told her to go to bed. He was a good fellow, and shortly after, when she returned, he lay on the floor face downwards in a shallow bowl of water, a dead man. And she had watched over him day and night a loving heart for his suffering wife and children. He, nevertheless, bedridden, not able to follow his calling, the cupboard empty on a Saturday night, think of it! What wonder if despair overwhelmed his reason, plunging him into a brain fever, which, in a few days, carried him off to his life into chaos. The well-to-do-ecision is to find in a satisfactory frame of mind who can reflect on the state of things and rest satisfied with the social arrangements which permit it. The officers of the Poor Law—the persons who are appointed to relieve distress, and who are by virtue of their position responsible for the care of the poor, are under serious responsibility, when, knowing the weakness of our laws, neglect it; and this I maintain in the face of all popular clamor against poor laws. The relieving officer wanted to force poor Jack into the Workhouse, and instead forced him into

FIRST OF MAY, 1851

Jubilee celebration has passed, very much of what occurred before, and after, the great Crystal Palace Exhibition, as gracefully described by authors of no mean ability; and as a copy of the poem is in existence, it can be ascertained, a gentleman living in the locality has very kindly permitted us some extracts from it. Additional interest will be felt in the poem and its author when we remark that the gentleman whom the copy belongs to, was privileged to see and hear the glories of the First Great Exhibition of 1851, when Her Majesty and the Prince Consort opened the first Great Exhibition that wonderful Palace of glass.

Prince Albert of Saxe Coburg

By the Cinque Ports be sworn He'll make an Exhibition
 That was never seen before.
 By the Cinque Ports be sworn it
 And named an opening day
 And letters wrote to left and right
 To bid the universe unite
 Upon the First of May.
 Left and right the letters went,
 To city, realm, and coast:
 And answers came most civilly,
 By the return of post.
 Shame on the lazy Nation,
 That will not join her share,
 With Albert and Britannia,
 To swell the World's great Fair.

The parcels and the packages
Come bundling in amain,
By many a creaking wagon;
By many a flying train;
By many a van of Fickford's,
That filled with ponderous casks
Makes every passer by exclaim,
"Good gracious, just look there
From autocratic Russia,
Where grows the unctuous B
Who covers native Poles with guano
And British polls with hair!
From France, the land of elegant
And witty eloquence,
Whose clever hands make all the
Except a constitution;

From the far off Republic,
On Transatlantic waves,
Who blazons stars of liberty
Upon the stripes of slaves;
From where the Alpine snows
The workshops of the free;
From where in fettered address
The muse of Italy!

Then came the weary days of pre-the horrid fact that the project, af-loudly blazoned, was nearly killed croakers who prophesied all sorts of and the "tickets will not sell." Al-their best, he and his commission asented as for giving up the effort—

 And the Prince's voice was sad,
 And dim his eye of blue;
 "It's come to this, my gracious
 "We do not know what to do!
 "There's not a soul contented;
 "The tickets will not sell;
 "And now the papers prophesy
 "Such things I fear to tell!
 "The French will spoil our moral
 "The Russians cheat and kneel
 "They'll hunt us like mosquito
 "Like snakes they'll twine about
 "The Chartist and the Communist
 "Will hand in hand combine
 "And break the British Empire

"About your head and mine I
Then on Cyprus Queen Victoria,
And brightly glanced her eye:
"I never heard such nonsense!"
"I only wish they'd try!"
"Don't mind those vile reports,
"Twill all come right, you'll see."
Just keep the workmen moving,
"And leave the rest to me!"
"I'll order out the carriage,
"My royal robes I'll wear."
"And though the crowd be milling
"No matter—I'll be there!"
"And in the face of rough John
"Whatever he means to do,

"I'll smile until he smiles again,
 "And gives a cheer for you!"
 "There'll be some foolish people"
 "Indeed, where are they not?"
 "Perhaps they'll throw a stone or
 "Or fire a little shot:
 "They never hit me yet, dear,
 "Except upon my bonnet;
 "So don't persuade me not to go—
 "I've set my heart upon it!"
 "Unpack the parcels, gentlemen,
 "As quickly as ye can collague,
 "I'll hear of no delay!"
 "Though few men league in millions
 "Will charm away their malice

"And walk to-ge-ther, arm in arm
"Right through the Crystal Palace"
"My heart of hearth," the Prince
"You talk just like a book."
And the relieved Commissioners
Cherred still the throne-room all
And through the streets of London
East, fast, the news was borne
And strange was the commotion,
Upon the morrow morn.
Then none would hear of waiting
Then all were wild to go;
Then did the ticket offices
With claimants overflow;
And every British lady

To bring from coast to coast
A ticket for the season.

And the great day came, the their millions thronged the streets of and the fears of thousands during the Jubilee celebrations found vent there.

A hundred winged whispers
Come floating thick and fast.
"What if three millions be in
"Think on the Bourbon's fate
"What if but one assail thee?
"Back—ere it be too late!"

Round gazed she, as not deigning
Such fears for her to entertain.

Yes—if indeed they hated her,
Then had she lived in vain!
For the people's glow of welcome
Is the Monarch's purest gem—
And her heart was calm and proud
In its honest love for them!
"O England—gallant England—
"So tried—and yet so true!
"You will not do your sovereign
"Who trusts her all to you!"
So she spoke, and smiling showed
The young heir by her side,
And mid a thunder of applause,
Sailed through the living tide.
And then follow verses, the full which has in great measure altered place, and is gradually coming near

And in the homes of labour,
When all have learnt to know
The one sweet tie of brotherhood
God knit for man below—
When honest toil is resting
Beside his quiet hearth,
And forgats the gloom of forge and
In his children's fearless mirth
When the wrongs are all forgiven
And the law of kindness rules,
When the swords are turned to plow,
And the prisons into schools;

CRICKET NOTES.

Rothwell played up badly in the return match with Kirkstall Educational on Saturday last, and consequently had to put up with a rather heavy defeat. Rothwell went in first, but a poor start was made by Waller and Harry Richardson. The first wicket, Chadwick, Briggs and Wise being all out for a total of 4 runs. Excepting Page, none of the others did much either, so that had it not been for him, the score would have been a really disgraceful one, as he contributed 23 out of a total of 43 runs. The visitors put together 77 for the loss of 9 wickets (one being absent), Perigo heading the list with 24, succeeded by Clifford and Jefford with each. In the match between the second eleven, however, things were different, and at Kirkstall, Rothwell gained a decisive victory over home team, who were completely out of their element. Rothwell was the only useful man, and was out all out for a paltry 35, eight of which were extras. T. Taylor was again to the fore with 5 wickets for 10 runs. W. L. Taylor 2 for 4 runs, Harrison 1 for 12, and Bennett 3 for 1. Rothwell made an excellent start, and at the conclusion of the innings had completed a total of 76. This would have been a record for any batsman for anybody's fault, but not less than fear of the Rothwell men were run out. T. Taylor was the only man to gain double figures, and was credited with 17 run out. Strange to say, no less than 28 were counted as extras.

Lofthouse journeyed to Holbeck and engaged a team of the Holbeck club, the result being a creditable win for the Lofthouse team by 63 runs. The visitors, by some good all-round batting, put together the respectable total of 115 runs, the principal contributor being H. H. Hollings, who scored 70. H. Hobbs, J. James, Hollings and C. Dawes also appeared in good fettle, scoring 17, 18, 15, 1 (not out) and 10. Crumpton (for Holbeck playing as slashing innings, and had made 83, when he was unfortunately run out. None of the other players could make any stand, and the innings eventually ended at 7.7. Singularly enough, it was the first match Holbeck played and not the first.

The Louthnes won, which, after their splendid display against Rothwell, comes as a matter of gratification to the Louthnes men. A match also took place between the second elevens of these clubs, terminating in favour of Louthnes, who administered a most crushing defeat to their adversaries. The most successful batsmen of the 1901 season were Farmer, playing splendidly for 61 pieces, while J. Herner, was a little below with 30, followed by Milner with 16. Louthnes could not reach this score by far, and were dismissed for a total of 51, 10 of which belonged to Gill.

The Methley cricket team have to match the Yorks and the Louthnes off for cup to match, played on the 11th inst. at the old Methley ground.

The financial result was for the benefit of Mr. Hartley Mills, who was confined last week. It was expected that little stranger will take his father's name, so that by and by another Harley Mills may continue the skillful play so frequently noted from working man.

On the evening of eleven administered a clever defeat on a minor team at the Woodston club, as the ground of the latter. For Stenton, Moorhouse battled well for 10, when he had the misfortune to be run out. The Rev. S. Street came next with 12, which with 11 extras and minor contributions made a total of 80. The Woodston men could not follow the training of the Stenton and Illegworth and were dismissed for the meagre score of 33, being obtained by Watson, and 8 extras. Ambrose took 5 wickets and Illegworth 4.

In their match with Leeds Co-op. last Wednesday

The Rothwell tradesmen had to be satisfied with second place; the scores being 94 and 48. They and Whitley were the only two who were not out of the running. While Wilson was head scorer for Rothwell with 19. In the bowling department of Rothwell, Wilson captured 4 wickets, Fowler 3, and Sunderland 2. In the "extras" portion, Leeds had 10, and Rothwell 6. The Friendly Society journeyed to Altofts to meet the Dodsworth team, but were unable to follow up their splendid performance of the previous week. Altofts led Rothwell. The "Friendly" had a score of 40, while Altofts had 50. Altofts had only 10 not so well with the bat, their score falling on a short of 40, 10 of which fell to Peldon. Some folk appear to have existed in running in the case of the Friendly Society, and they too had to suffer the loss of two batsmen from bad carelessness on someone's part.

is a specially good man with the willow, while Copple may be generally reckoned on to contribute his share. The Dodsworth team put together 94, 35 of which were due to Wade, 15 to Porter, 13 each to Blackhurst and Sheard, and 12 to extras.

A noticeable feature in last Saturday's club game was the extraordinary number of extras down in nearly all the matches, which look very bad indeed. It would be well for players generally to bear in mind the fact that fielding is of just as much importance as batting in a cricket match, and although unhappily it does not "show so in the paper," yet one run saved is equal to one scored. Unlucky players please note.

JUBILEE CELEBRATION AT ROTHWELL.

THE FREE TEA TO ONE THOUSAND CHILDREN.

To the Editor of the Rothwell Times.

Dear Sir,

Through the medium of your valuable paper, I beg most respectfully to tender our thanks to the committee and all in any way connected with the same, for the kind and willing assistance rendered in the carrying out of the children's tea, which enabled us (notwithstanding the extra labour and inconvenience, of having to remove into another field, as we were obliged to prepare for the first sitting of the children to carry out the programme) generally well as to time, the whole of the thousand children being served at two sittings down from four six o'clock.

Yours truly,

Wm. J. G.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—Rheumatism.—These purifying and soothing ointments are the best for all rheumatic aches, gout, mistics, or other painful affections of the muscles, nerves, or joints. The Ointment is applied after the affected parts have been fomented with warm water, and the Pills should be diligently continued until the pain, unless the friction ceases pain. Holloway's Pills should be simultaneously taken to diminish the inflammation, and purify the blood. The Ointment should be used with the frequency of gout, rheumatism, and all diseases which spring from hereditary predisposition or from any accidental weakness of constitution. It is also the best for the local malady, whether it be a venereal or other virus.

CAUTION.—FRAUDS.
A Green Hop Cane is on every Legume with it. Many merchants have been duped by this fraud. It is a very strong stuff being palmed on them as Hop Bitters, under the pretence of a lot of water than the genuine, we advise purchasers to look for Green Hop Cane.

NOTICE.
Anyone who may be deceived in Hop Bitters, and led to believe that the same persons are Hop Bitters manufacturers, as they are not, we advise the Manager, Hop Bitters Company (Incorporated) to be consulted.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment—exert a remarkably favourable effect in all those diseases which are induced by exposure to damp or by great heat and low temperature. They will therefore be found eminently serviceable to those who work in iron foundries, copper mines, and collieries. These well known remedies present manifest advantages in respect of ease and effectiveness, being entirely compounded of vegetable and mineral ingredients.

regardless of price. When used in accordance with the simple printed directions which accompany them, they act surely but mildly, and do not interfere with the daily work. There are but few instances in which are not helpful of course—or, at all events, of great relief—if Holloway's remedies are preserved and used.

"SUMMER, HEADS WILL BUZZ," and the question is what is best to drink? A most delicious and refreshing Drink is formed by mixing Lamplough's Concentrated Lime Juice Syrup with Lamplough's Pyretic Saline in water; together they form the "perfect luxury." Lamplough's Pyretic Saline has the effect of clearing the blood, and thus relieves the throat in a remarkable manner, cools the head, and gives a refreshing and pleasant taste. It is the same that clears away obstructions from the Stomach, and Bile, and Bowels, thus striking at the Root of Disease, controls Fevers, removes Feverish Colds, and all invulnerable domestic medicine. Mr. Young writes: "For fifteen years I have taken it every morning during the whole of that time have not taken any medicine nor had a doctor." Of all medicines.

THERAPY AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.—A sufferer from the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchitis Trochets." These famous "lozenges" are now most respectable chemists in this country at 10 pence per box. They are made with a backing of sugar, and have a pleasant taste. In case of a "slight cold," bronchitis or influenza, if taken too soon, as similar trochets, if allowed to grow green, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic attacks.
